

Louisiana Department of Natural Resources Performance Building Consulting, Inc.

- The Louisiana Department of Natural Resources is partnering with The Louisiana Clean Tech Network, The Alliance for Affordable Energy, and Performance Building Consulting to provide a series of RESNET Accredited Home Energy Rater Training Courses
- The courses will be offered statewide through the end of 2010
- Each course will provide five days of classroom instruction on how to conduct a fully accredited home energy rating as prescribed by RESNET
- On the last day of every classroom training portion of the session the National Rater Certification Exam will be administered by the instructor
- In most instances, a second component of fieldwork training will follow each classroom session in which attendees will be able to conduct their required training ratings in order to be fully certified under RESNET upon course completion
